

Government in Cuba Smashes Revolution

It Puts Total Casualties At About 75

It Accuses Former President Socarras Of Directing Plot

HAVANA (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's government said today it had smashed an uprising of rebels and naval and maritime police dissidents in south-central Cuba. It put total casualties at about 75.

A high command announcement said 40 to 50 rebels were killed or wounded. It reported government losses at 12 killed and 13 wounded.

The command accused former President Carlos Prio Socarras of masterminding yesterday's day-long revolt in Cienfuegos, 150 miles southeast of Havana.

Prio was ousted by President Fulgencio Batista in 1953 and took refuge in Miami, Fla. He has repeatedly denied government charges of plotting against Batista.

The government poured in planes, tanks and troops after 400 rebels seized police headquarters in downtown Cienfuegos and threatened to take control over the port city of 52,000.

The high command announcement was issued by Maj. Gen. Francisco Tabernilla, army chief of staff; Adm. Jose Rodriguez Calderon, navy commander; and Brig. Gen. Hernandez Hernandez, the national police chief.

They issued the statement just after dawn after a long conference at nearby Camp Columbia with President Batista.

The statement said revolutionaries disguised in Cuban navy sailors' uniforms first attacked Cienfuegos naval post early yesterday "murdering several members of the naval post while they were sleeping."

Admitting a bloody battle took place, the statement said the uprising was crushed "after the violent action of the army with the cooperation of the navy and police."

"We have to deplore the casualties caused by the criminal persistence of Prio and his accomplices which has provoked this senseless bloodshed by using great sums of money and in deceiving the people," the statement said.

The command said all rebel resistance in Cienfuegos has been liquidated and order re-established. It said complete calm prevailed elsewhere in the nation.

Telephone reports from Cienfuegos said all business places reopened this morning and all transportation and public services were again operating. There was sporadic shooting throughout the night, however.

Minor Changes Seen in Nation's Weather Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today. Autumn-like weather continued in most of the northern areas from the Plains states to New England. Some of the cool air which covered the Northeast dipped into the northern sections of the Gulf Coast states.

Temperatures in the cool belt were mostly in the 60s but were down to the 50s and some 40s in northern areas from New England westward through the Great Lakes region and into the Dakotas.

Readings near the Gulf Coast and westward through Texas were generally in the 70s. In the West, marks in the 60s were reported in the Rockies and westward while in the Southwest desert region temperatures were in the 80s.

Light showers sprinkled areas in Florida and along the southeast coast. More general rainfall fell from Iowa southwestward into the Texas Panhandle.

One man was killed by lightning in severe thunderstorms that brought heavy rain and hail to scattered sections in the Texas Panhandle last night. More than 1½ inches of rain soaked Buena Vista in 25 minutes. Hailstones the size of golf balls pelted the area.

Man Drowns in Lagoon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 49-year-old St. Louis man apparently drowned in the lagoon in Forest Park yesterday while playing golf.

Police identified him as Charles Johnston, a retired postal clerk. Authorities said other golfers reported Johnston was subject to epileptic attacks. The lagoon and the course intertwine on several holes.

Arms Step Up Requested By Nations

Dulles and Pineau To Discuss Crisis In the Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today that accelerated American arms delivery to the Middle East was requested by friendly countries there after the pro-Soviet swing in Syria.

The department announced that Secretary of State Dulles and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau will discuss the Syrian crisis along with a number of other issues, including Algeria, when they meet here tomorrow.

Earlier tomorrow Dulles will confer with President Eisenhower at the White House, reporting on the fact-finding mission of his top Middle East expert, Loy Henderson.

Speculation is that Eisenhower may make a declaration on U.S. policy, including a statement of strong support for friendly countries which might be menaced by open or hidden aggressive actions from Syria.

The four countries for which arms deliveries are being expedited are Turkey, Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon. Light arms are being airlifted to Jordan. The first of several Air Force cargo plane flights is expected to reach Amman Monday.

Press officer Luther Reid gave general confirmation to those reports today but would not name the countries. He would only say: "We are expediting deliveries to Middle Eastern countries that have military assistance agreements with the United States. The speed-up started some days ago. The arms shipments are in movement. I don't know when they will actually arrive."

Businessmen Chided

US Chamber President Criticizes Union Deals

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The head of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States criticized today "those so-called businessmen who have worked hand in glove with the leaders of 'paper unions.'"

Such bosses, said Philip M. Talbott, president of the National Businessmen's organization, have "sold their employees down the river to unscrupulous grafters just as one might sell a herd of cattle."

Referring to congressional probes of racketeering in labor unions and business, Talbott added in a talk prepared for a meeting of the Wichita C. of C. and Kiwanis Club members:

"You and I would be less than honest if we regarded the revelations in the committee sessions as reflecting only on labor."

"They also reflect on the business community, innocent as the overwhelming majority of businessmen may be. It takes two to make a deal."

"If there were no entrepreneurs who were willing to compromise with morality, it would be more difficult for labor racketeers to make headway."

"I am informed that the con-

Says Lack Of Discipline Helps Escapes

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Callaway County Sheriff Paul O. Goodman charged today that lack of "discipline and restraint" in the criminal division of State Hospital No. 1 was helping to make escapes by patients possible.

His charge was made as a result of the latest escape, which occurred on Labor Day when three convicts, sent to the hospital for observation, fled after overpowering attendants.

Goodman said he first complained to hospital authorities about lack of discipline and restraint in handling criminal patients following the escape last year of Stuart Allen, a hammer-slayer of a St. Louis church sexton.

Goodman said lax policies, especially in the handling of patients sent here from the State Penitentiary for observation, posed a threat to the community.

"I believe prisoners from the state prison sent to the hospital should be kept in cells," Goodman said. "They are quick to take advantage of good treatment."

The three convicts who fled Monday were being held on a locked receiving ward with other new patients. Individual cells at the hospital are rarely used.

"As a result of the latest break-out," Goodman said, "law enforcement officers in this area have had to work night and day hunting for the escapees."

The trio is still at large.

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—A truck loaded with cedar posts and creosote rammed the bridge over the Niangua River yesterday and burst into flames, burning the driver to death.

The Highway Patrol identified the victim as Dewey Porter, 57, of Plad, Mo. He was alone when the accident occurred.

Damage to the bridge, which is at Bennett Springs, was estimated at $5,000.

Economics Program Is Begun

Breakfast Meetings, Classes Organized; Starts September 17

The first class for the Economic Education Program, sponsored by the education and recreation division of the Chamber of Commerce, of which E. G. Kehde, Jr., is general chairman, was organized Friday morning at the Bothwell Hotel. Plans were made to have the first meeting on Tuesday morning, Sept. 17. This will be a breakfast meeting, as will the 16 following meetings of the complete course, starting at 7 a.m.

Sixteen people attended the coffee and doughnut session at which George Morrison, Tulsa, Okla., district manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce, explained the course and all attending the meeting voted to become members of the first class.

Kehde appointed a steering committee to make arrangements for the classes composed of Gaylon Insko, Jim Woods and Arthur Morgan. The group will be limited to 25, but if there is enough interest, a second and even more groups will be organized.

The basis of the course is to improve business planning in Sedalia and to explain all phases of business that men and women in business, labor and education will have a better understanding of the American economic system under which they are operating.

Morrison presented the program at the morning meeting in the same manner in which the classes will be conducted. There will be a moderator, to be selected by the steering committee, who will preside over the classes as Morrison did, and for each class there will be a book on a certain subject of business. The series of books cost $5.

At the morning session Morrison selected the pamphlet of the eighth topic of the course, which was "Prices, Profits and Wages." This was in the form of a discussion of a group of men and the questions asked with several answers. (Please turn to page 2 column 3)

Typhoon Bess Slams Southern Japan, Winds Cause Heavy Damage

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Bess tonight slammed into southern Japan with 90 m.p.h. winds and heavy rain, destroying or damaging 250 houses and halting train, bus and air service.

Police said two persons were missing and 1,250 homeless in the southern island of Kyushu. Heavy loss of rice crops is expected.

The storm, advancing northward on a more than 300-mile front at 20 m.p.h., is expected to lash the crowded Tokyo-Yokohama area with winds reaching 90 m.p.h. by Saturday afternoon.

Center winds have been clocked at 115 m.p.h.

Emergency typhoon headquarters have been set up in four Kyushu cities, Kagoshima, Kumamoto, Oita and Miyazaki.

Cloudy Skies, Showers Prevail Over State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cloudy skies with scattered showers and thunderstorms prevailed in Missouri today and more of the same was in prospect for tonight and tomorrow.

The moisture-laden clouds were moved along by variable winds of 10 miles per hour or less and temperatures ranged comfortably near 70 after night time lows of 54 at West Plains and 56 at St. Louis and Kirksville.

The weather bureau predicted skies would be mostly cloudy this afternoon with showers and thunderstorms general. Tonight is expected to see the northwest partly cloudy with precipitation centering in the southeast where a warming trend is indicated.

Six Arrested at Little Rock; Ike Will Return for Confab

Little Rock Report Given To President

Brownell Advises Ike 'All Quiet' In Controversy

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower got an early start on the golf course today after receiving an "all quiet" report on the school integration controversy in Little Rock, Ark.

The vacationing President got the report on the Little Rock picture from Atty. Gen. Brownell, who telephoned from Washington and talked to James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Hagerty sent word to newsmen here that Brownell told him to advise Eisenhower there was no change in the situation at Little Rock where Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus has used the National Guard to bar Negro students from Central High School.

Eisenhower will interrupt his New England vacation tomorrow to return to Washington for a day of conferences on that matter and on the Communist menace in the Middle East.

The President, who arrived here only Wednesday, plans to return tomorrow night to Newport, where he and Mrs. Eisenhower are guests at the U. S. naval base on Coaster's Harbor Island.

Eisenhower turned up at his temporary office at the base at 7:40 a. m. today. He walked from the nearby vacation White House and told sleepy-eyed newsmen with a grin: "You fellows are having to get up pretty early, aren't you?"

The President spent about an hour at his office, then traveled across Narragansett Bay by Navy cable cruiser for another round of golf at the Newport Country Club.

He played, as he did yesterday, with Hagerty; the club president, Howard Cushing, and club pro Norman Palmer.

Later yesterday Hagerty said the President had decided to return to Washington tomorrow to:

1. Confer with Atty. Gen. Brownell regarding the tense school integration situation in Little Rock, Ark.

Eisenhower himself hinted, meanwhile, the federal government might be thinking about trying to limit the activities of National Guardsmen posted by Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus at Little Rock's Central High School. The posting has halted racial integration ordered by a U.S. District Court.

2. Meet with Secretary of State Dulles and State Department trouble shooter Loy Henderson for a briefing on a mounting crisis in Syria. Henderson returned this week from the Mideast where he developed "deep concern lest Syria should become a victim of international communism."

The State Department reported its concern as the government hinted it may invoke Eisenhower's Middle East policy of economic and military aid to deal with the Syrian crisis. A resolution approved by Congress last March authorizes such aid to any Mideast country which "threatened by communism—seeks U.S. help."

3. Get together with Budget Director Brundage for preliminary discussion of the administration's pending program for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The White House also announced the President probably will drive from Washington to Baltimore, Md., for a brief stop late in the afternoon at a coming-out party for his young niece, Ruth Eisenhower. She is the daughter of the chief executive's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University.

Kinda Cool

It seems strange to go by the park swimming pools and see no crowds there, but it would certainly be chilly sport now.

Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms tonight; partly cloudy and continued cool Saturday; low tonight near 60; high Saturday in upper 70s.

The temperature one year ago today, high 88, low 55, with .07 inch of rain; two years ago, high 92, low 58 and three years ago, high 98, low 71.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 58.2, steady.

STOPS REPORTER'S QUESTIONING—An Arkansas National Guard officer waves his "billy club" as he stops New York Times reporter Benjamin Fine, right, from questioning students of Central High School at Little Rock, Ark. Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies had ordered the school to accept integration of Negro students, but Gov. Orval Faubus called upon the National Guard to surround the school and prevent Negro students from entering.

Advised to Leave

One of Students Arrested Says 'Just Sight-Seeing'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—One of six University of Minnesota students taken into custody and then released by National Guardsmen blocking racial integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., said today he and his friends were "just sight-seeing" when the incident occurred.

Murray Gallinson, 20, of Minneapolis, telephoned his story to the Minneapolis Star.

He and five other students were on a vacation trip to New Orleans.

"We were driving around the Central High School, just sight-seeing," Gallinson telephoned, "when we were stopped by two National Guardsmen."

"One of them asked me and my friends if we were armed. I told them I had a knife—a souvenir I had picked up at an Ozark Mountain resort Thursday."

The youth said he handed over the knife after the guardsman told him he could be fined $50 for carrying a concealed weapon.

"As soon as our two cars were stopped, the crowd saw by our license plates that we were from Minnesota and the people became very hostile," Gallinson added.

"We were actually relieved when the state police came along and escorted us to police headquarters. People in the crowd shouted 'damnyanke' and 'communists' as we were being taken away."

Gallinson said that after being questioned at police headquarters, he and his friends were "advised" to leave town. He made his telephone call from the outskirts of town, on the way to Vicksburg, Miss.

With Gallinson were Robert Milavetz, 21; Harris Levine, Mike Goldman, Stephen Lang, 19, and Marvin Segal, 20.

DETROIT (AP)—Sure he could explain why his monkey-bit—a policeman, said Edward Osowski. "He just doesn't like uniforms," said Osowski, answering a charge he was harboring a vicious animal.

Traffic Referee Oscar A. Rippelle acquitted Osowski.

Reports Indicate Storm Is Brewing In Atlantic Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ship reports to the Miami Weather Bureau indicated today that a tropical storm is brewing far out in the Atlantic Ocean—in an area which has given birth to many of history's most destructive hurricanes.

Forecaster Walter Davis said a ship 2,300 miles east-southeast of Miami radioed that barometric pressure was dropping and winds picking up rapidly.

"It appears that a storm is in the formative stage out there," Davis said. "We have asked the ship and any others in the area to give us reports at two-hour intervals."

The vicinity from which the ship reported is a blind spot on weather maps because there are no regular shipping lanes. As the storm moves eastward, it will whirl into thicker ocean-going traffic.

In Custody

SURRENDERS — Racketeer Harry Stromberg, above, indicted with 45 others on charges of conspiring to violate the narcotics laws, is shown after he surrendered in the office of U.S. Attorney Paul Williams in New York. Known in the underworld as Nig Rosen, Stromberg is accused by a Federal Grand Jury of masterminding a 20-million-dollar a year narcotics smuggling ring. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Minneapolis Students Go Free Later

Will Continue Their Pre-school Vacation Trip to New Orleans

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Watchful National Guardsmen blocking racial integration at Central High School took six university students from Minneapolis into custody this morning and released them a short time later.

State Police Capt. Alan Templeton said all were ordered released. Other state troopers who escorted the youths from the school quoted the six as saying they would continue their pre-school vacation trip to New Orleans.

One youth, identified as Murray Gallinson, about 20, carried a sheath knife four to five inches long, Col. Marion Johnson of the guard said.

The other five were identified as Marion Segal, Robert Milavetz, Mike Goldman, Steven Lange and Harris Levine.

A dozen newsmen tried unsuccessfully to question Gallinson as two guardsmen took him rapidly down the street. The reporters heard Gallinson describe the knife as a "souvenir" and tell the guardsmen he was on a "sight-seeing tour."

Gallinson, who had a camera slung around his neck, was mistaken for a news photographer for a time.

Guardsmen still ringed the high school today, but a smaller crowd of demonstrators appeared across the street from the campus.

The future of the smoldering integration crisis appeared to be in the hands of a federal judge who will hear a school board plea for a truce.

A momentary lull developed yesterday in the battle over racial mixing. The Little Rock School Board offered the possibility of a temporary solution by asking federal Judge Ronald N. Davies to follow an indefinite legal postponement of integration.

Judge Davies will hear the school board's petition at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Twice within a week he has ordered immediate racial mixing.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who ordered out the troops last Tuesday to keep nine Negro students from entering the high school, yesterday got President Eisenhower's answer to an appeal for intervention in the clash of federal and state authority.

Eisenhower told Faubus that he would use all legal means at his command to uphold the federal Constitution.

The President will interrupt his vacation at Newport, R.I., to return to Washington tomorrow for a conference with Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Faubus has not been seen publicly since he held a news conference Wednesday morning and an aide said last night that the governor's whereabouts were unknown. But the aide released a statement from the governor which said he was getting almost unanimous support from every section of Arkansas.

The governor wired Eisenhower Wednesday that he had information that federal agents in Little Rock had discussed the possibility of taking him into custody, and said he suspected federal men of tapping his telephone lines.

Faubus asked the President for cooperation in trying to settle the crisis peacefully.

The governor contends that he ordered out the National Guard to avert violence.

Says No Asian Flu Reported In State

ST. LOUIS (AP)—No cases of Asian flu have been reported in Missouri, Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis city health commissioner, said yesterday.

The doctor added that should the flu strike there should be no reason for panic because Asian flu has proved to be mild and most persons stricken can be treated at home.

Dr. Smith pointed out that most of the vaccine developed to combat the flu has been tied up by the military and will not be available for widespread civilian use.

If the flu hits St. Louis, it will last four or five weeks, he added.

The doctor noted that several nearby states—Kentucky, Illinois, Nebraska and Kansas—have reported scattered attacks of the flu.

Gardner-Gordon Marriage Vows

At six o'clock in the evening of August 15 Miss Jacquelyn Jo Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gardner, Smithton, became the bride of S-Sgt. Walter Morrice Gordon, son of William Gordon, Andover, Mass., at Salem Methodist Church near Beaman. The Rev. Ralph Hurd performed the double ring ceremony. The wedding date was the birthday anniversary of the bride's mother. The bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Curtiss and Mr. Curtiss were married on her father's birthday.

Gary Griffin, Smithton, accompanied by Mrs. Delbert Wagenknecht, sang "Always" and "Because." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of white embroidered tulle-trimmed with white satin and rhinestones. Her veil was fingertip length. She carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Allan Atkin, Kansas City, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a ballerina length formal of lavender not over satin. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Robert E. Curtis, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. Claude Gardner Jr., brother of the bride, ushered. Curtis and Gardner also lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Robin Lynn and Karen Michele Curtiss, dressed in floor length dresses of aqua nylon over taffeta, were flower girls.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe with white and pink figures. Her corsage was of white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The room was decorated with lavender and white crepe paper streamers and mixed flowers. A heart and wedding bells were suspended over the bride's table. The four-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. George Goose, aunt of the bride, Ottumwa, and Mrs. Robert Curtis, sister of the bride, served the cake and punch. Miss Tonya Kay Gardner, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. The couple left on a wedding trip to Massachusetts. The bride wore a blue dotted swiss dress.

Aching Backs In The Fall

September's chilly advent heralds the approach of Autumn, its beauty and its hazards.

Whoever thought a fallen leaf might cause a dangerous injury. Wet ones on a sidewalk or porch are not to be ignored, however. The National Safety Council says they are not harmless objects and are just as much of an injury dealer as a paper clip.

In fact paper clips, wet leaves and pattering around a yard have something in common—they both can cause back injuries, just the same as lifting objects that are too heavy.

Most business establishments and factories crusade continuously for co-operative practice of job safety, and then individually employees and managers throw caution to the winds when they step into their own yard and home.

The familiar complaint, "Oh, my aching back!" more often than not originates on the home premises and not in the factory.

About weight lifting, how can a person go about telling if a load's too heavy for him? The National Safety Council says these points should be considered:

1. How is the lifter built—slight or sturdy? 2. What type of work is he used to? 3. Is the load bulky or compact?

A slight office worker is asking for trouble if he attempts a single-handed lift of a 100-pound object. Don't be too shy to ask for help.

How to lift properly is another subject many persons are unfamiliar with. The Council recommends this procedure:

Lift with legs bent, back straight, load held close to the body. Grip the load at opposite corners, straighten the knees and pull the load up directly over the feet. But don't jerk or strain.

Other ways to prevent back injuries are these:

1. Beware of carrying heavy objects up or down stairs.

2. If a wheelbarrow has to be pushed across soft ground, the task will be easier if a plank is put down first.

3. Instead of lifting a heavy carton or box, rock it on its corners—it'll "walk" with little effort.

4. Use a plank for skidding heavy objects up or down stairs.

A back injury, whether it's suffered from lifting a heavy object improperly or from slipping on a wet leaf or paper clip is painful—and often costly.

Asiatic Flu Scare Helps Sell Vaccine

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is touring the Mediterranean, his column is written by his junior partner.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — They refuse to be quoted, but some government doctors believe the Asiatic flu scare has been exaggerated to sell commercial vaccine. Six big drug companies are working triple shifts seven days a week to meet the tremendous demand for vaccine.

Meanwhile, the United Nations' medical chief in the middle East, Dr. Pierre Du Page, has canceled his orders for American vaccine on the grounds it won't be needed. He has told associates that Asiatic flu lessens in severity as it spreads, therefore the vaccine will be useless by the time it would arrive.

Dr. Du Page has probably handled more Asiatic flu cases than any single doctor. One day alone he reported 2,000 new cases at a refugee camp at Ba'Albek, Lebanon.

American doctors who have been testing the virus at Walter Reed Army Hospital and the national institutes of health are divided in their opinions. They agree that the disease has been comparatively mild. It causes a miserable, but nonfatal fever that lasts two or three days.

Can Prevent Epidemics
Of 30,000 reported cases in this country, only six have ended in death. At least two of these, doctors found, were not caused by the Asiatic flu. Some government medics agree with Dr. Du Page that the virus is losing its virulence, that the main effect of the new vaccine will be to boost the drug companies' profits.

Other doctors insist there is no way to forecast whether Asiatic flu will gain or lose virulence this winter. They point out the disease is highly contagious and usually hits 15 to 20 per cent of an infected community. The vaccine can prevent such epidemics, they say.

Six companies are licensed to produce the vaccine: Merck, Sharp & Dohme; Lederle Laboratories; Eli Lilly; Pitman-Moore; National Drug Company; and Parke Davis & Co.

The retail price ranges from $6 to $8 a vial, which contains enough vaccine for 10 doses. One dose should give immunity from four to six months. The companies refused to reveal how much of the purchase price is pocketed as profit.

Dollar Shrinks
It's no secret that Republicans are worried about losing votes over skyrocketing prices. Yet living costs, already at an historic high, are still climbing.

The steel increase will push up the prices of automobiles and appliances. Higher processing costs should boost food prices. Rents and services are also expected to continue up.

Government economists estimate that the dollar's purchasing power is shrinking at the phenomenal rate of six cents per year. This is hitting Dad in the pocketbook and Mom in the

Guest Editorial—

COLUMBIA TRIBUNE: Child Labor Laws. Child labor laws in Missouri have undergone extensive revisions with perhaps the most important change raising the age limit from 14 to 16 years during the school term.

The Missouri General Assembly, of course, made provisions for some work in the 14-16 age group, but limits hours of work between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. makes an eight-hour day and 40-hour week mandatory, strictly prohibits employment in 17 specific fields, and requires a work certificate approved by the superintendent of schools as a pre-requisite for any work at all.

The work certificates may be issued if employment will serve the best interest of the child and upon written request of parents.

The new regulations aren't expected to create a hardship for those students who find it necessary to work their way, as work certificates may permit employment during non-school hours as well as employment of children excused from school.

The amended child labor laws replace ambiguous state regulations and became effective on August 29. Among exceptions it provides are work performed by a child for his parent or guardian, occasional work performed with knowledge of parent, or work by a boy 12 years or over in distribution of newspapers and periodicals. Otherwise, work under the age of 14 years is prohibited.

Eisenhower Conferences Are Never Fiery

Asiatic Flu Scare Helps Sell Vaccine

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—After more than four years of President Eisenhower's news conferences, a reporter can pretty well tell what's coming much of the time. These news conferences are never fiery. They're seldom exciting.

Eisenhower knows far more about government than he did when he started. He comes to his conferences better prepared. His sentence structure is better, although it still wobbles.

He still sprinkles each conference with clichés and homilies. Eisenhower has one rigid rule, never to say anything critical about another individual. This has saved him from personal feuds while preserving the dignity of the presidency.

For some kinds of questions he figuratively carries a syringe full of oil to squirt on troubled waters. Ask him about a serious situation in school integration and his answers are practically standard.

Eisenhower never has said he approves the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation. But he says repeatedly he will uphold the Constitution.

Integration, he says, is a problem involving emotions on both sides. But he expresses confidence things will work out.

As he said this week: "We are going to whip this thing in the long run by Americans being true to themselves and not merely by law."

Thurmond Oratory Champ

But Organized Filibuster Not Intent of Southerners

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Well, sir, Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina has made a contribution. We now know of at least one man who can talk longer than Senator Wayne Morse, the old champ from Oregon.

Of course Morse is a little easier to understand. One of my clever colleagues transcribed Thurmond thusly: "The fiddle gubmit rah cheer in Washun goanta rune thah rahhtis of ow sovvin stets. . ." And so on.

Not a particularly important distinction, perhaps. The tidelands oil bill got through in spite of Morse's prodigious effort. Thurmond's 24 hour speech was even more futile insofar as the civil rights bill was concerned, though the filibuster may assure political longevity.

The fact is that the Southern bloc shied away from an organized filibuster. As Senator Sam Ervin of North Carolina pointed out, a filibuster would not have prevented passage of civil rights legislation. But it might have led to modification of the rule permitting unlimited debate. Southern Senators don't want that.

The fear that an all out filibuster might result in elimination of this device was a governing consideration during all the time the bill was pending. Actually most Southerners were resigned to the passage of a bill, and they devoted their energy to keeping the bill as mild as possible.

Thurmond devoted his energy to filibustering only after it was completely clear his speech could change nothing.

Holman Not in Running For Celestial Elections?

Haskell Holman, state auditor, is a practical man.

The state auditor is up for reelection next year and never misses a chance to make new friends, spread a little cheer and incidentally garner a few votes.

Taking note of that fact, Rep. Harry Raliffe, (D-St. Louis) visited in Holman's office recently and congratulated the state auditor for his political tactics. "As a campaigner, you're out of this world," Raliffe said.

To this Holman replied, "I don't want to campaign out of this world, I'd never get any votes there."

New Farm Program Planned at Prison

Col. James D. Carter, state director of corrections, indicates that he will wait until he can confer with Gov. James T. Blair before announcing his appointment to the post of state prison farms director.

A merit system register for the post consists of Clarence M. (Jack) Kroeck, Jefferson City radio farm director and former vocational agriculture instructor, Victor Gray, employee of the state agriculture department and a former county agent, and William Miller, former Missourian now with an Illinois farm agency.

Carter said a vast new prison farm program would be started as soon as the new farm director is appointed. He said this would include courses in vocational agriculture for inmates, state inspection of prison canned foods, and more selection in prison grown crops.

SHORT SNORTS: Reports from the state conservation commission indicate that fall fishing at Lake Table Rock will be excellent. Being a new lake, the crop of small mouth bass is reported extremely gullible and the good fishing is expected to continue this fall. . . .

Acting Gov. Edward V. Long has commuted to the state capitol by air almost daily since he took over for ailing Gov. James T. Blair. Long uses a state highway patrol airplane for the 45 minute hop from Bowling Green to Jefferson City. . . . State labor leaders are hopeful that the United States Supreme Court will agree to hear a case challenging the constitutionality of the state's King Thompson law which forbids strikes against public utilities.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Fruit harvesters know that they must pack only firm fruit for shipment. A tiny soft spot begins to spoil. The bruise spreads its effect until it ruins not only the single piece of fruit, but also other solid fruit which touches it. A small spot will make a rotten basket.

In the same way, a small sin in any one of us can spread itself to influence every activity of our living. This influence touches our associates and degrades them also. In the same manner that the fruit packer culls out the bad fruit, so must we cull out the evil influences in our lives.

Although we may determine where these influences touch our lives, we shall not be able to restore our souls to full unblemished flavor without God's revitalizing forgiveness.

HORRIFIED TO FIND her small son had chewed all the material off of the covered buttons on the head board of his new bed, the young mother really took the youngster to task and when she had finished with him went on into the kitchen.

A few minutes later the little boy went into the kitchen, too, leaned up against the refrigerator and in a tone of exhaustion commented: "Mommy, I think I'm going to die. I believe God's going to come down and get me one of these days."—H.L.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

Will Observe Mission Rally Day Sunday

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

An interesting study would be of the extent to which the glory of great men and women, in character and achievement, has been shared, or ought to have been shared, by someone in the background. For example: a secretary, or a disciple, or some devoted follower or active supporter. The glorified assistants have been active in history, even if the glory has not always shone upon them.

In our own recent history, President Wilson had his Colonel House; President Franklin Roosevelt had Harry Hopkins. I suppose only the future will reveal how large a part Sherman Adams is having in the career of President Eisenhower.

Away back in the life of Israel, some 2,500 years ago, was a noble example of the glorified assistant. He was the secretary and assistant of the Prophet Jeremiah. Everybody knows about Jeremiah, even if they are not familiar with his prophecy or know little of his actual life.

His name is perpetuated in numberless Jeremiahs. But who knows about the secretary, Baruch?

There is, of course, the present-day unofficial statesman, Bernard Baruch, whose character and achievement have won him a worthy place among his fellow citizens. But his name is a family name, not a Christian name, as the name Jeremiah has been in many Christian baptisms.

But that other Baruch, about whom only those well versed in Bible lore would be apt to know—who was he? And what is his claim to honor and fame?

Though he was not himself a prophet, he made public the words of Jeremiah in a time of great peril to himself, showing not only devotion to the prophet, but a belief in his words. Moreover, he showed a deep courage in writing the prophetic words at the prophet's dictation a second time when a wrathful king has burned the first writing (Jeremiah 36:20-32) and imprisoned the prophet.

The people of the Kingdom of Judah were undergoing the tragedy that has so often beset the people in that little land of Palestine, and that besets Israel even today, the tragedy of not being left alone to work out their own life and destiny. There, in that little land that offers every allurement of sea, mountain and fertile plain, they were caught in the conflict between Babylon and Egypt.

Against Jeremiah's prophecy and counsel the king of Judah chose to ally himself with Egypt, imposing heavy taxes to satisfy Egyptian demands. As the prophet

St. Paul's Lutheran

Will Observe Mission Rally Day Sunday

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will observe its Mission Rally Sunday with morning and afternoon services.

The Rev. Carl H. Wolf, formerly a missionary in Argentina, and now pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, will preach at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Albert J. Meier, pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, will preach at 2 p.m.

A basket dinner will be served at noon.

Warned, he made a bad choice. The hordes of Nebuchadnezzar utterly defeated the Egyptians and carried the Jews to exile in far-off Babylon.

Glory and tragedy have been the lot of the "chosen people," who have not always honored God's choice. Jeremiah and his helper, Baruch, shared both glory and tragedy, daring to write and speak the truth that was in them, though it brought upon them the hostility of king and people, who sought pleasant words rather than warnings.

The end of the prophet and his helper is unknown except in legend. The probability is that both died, or met death, in Egypt.

But the books of the Prophecy, Jeremiah and Lamentations, live on.

England's Royal Roost Is Ruled In Effect By Queen and Husband

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON—NEA—Who rules the royal roost in Britain, Queen Elizabeth or her husband and consort, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh?

This is the question which Americans most often ask. This is the riddle which intrigues Britons most, for it underlies the struggle for power now taking place behind the throne.

The short answer is: Both. Elizabeth and Philip work as a team. In affairs of State, the decision is solely the Queen's, acting upon the advice of her ministers. Philip is not permitted to read important State papers, nor does he attend meetings of the Privy Council. When it concerns "this Queen business," as he calls it, Philip gracefully bows out of the picture.

In all domestic matters, whether it be in the Queen's choice of a new dress or the seating arrangement at a dinner, the choice of a new cook or the education of Prince Charles, Philip has an important say.

One cannot imagine Queen Victoria sitting down to dinner with a left-wing Party leader who came out of the coal mines in Wales, or receiving in the Royal Enclosure at Ascot an ex-Hollywood film star who had been through the divorce courts.

Yet Elizabeth did both of these things recently and she did them at Philip's prompting. It was Philip's idea that she should invite American Bessie, Labor's enfant terrible, to dinner, and that she should receive Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., whose first wife was Joan Crawford.

And the nation applauds. "What a splendid thing it is that the Queen should welcome to her table a group of men not one of whom belongs to the old Court circles," comments the Daily Express.

"The old royal ways are being adapted sensibly to the needs of the age," the editorial adds, concluding that the trend "will certainly command the support of the British people."

The British people, perhaps, but not "the old Court circles." Philip's brassiness, his breeziness of manner, have inevitably brought him into head-on clash with the old Palace guard, with whom he is frankly bored.

Who are these courtiers, about whom the world has heard so much recently? "The tweedy set," Lord Altrincham, the Queen's severest critic, calls them.

These are the ladies-in-waiting and lords of the bedchamber, whose families in some cases have been serving royalty for 400 years. These are the aristocrats who would like to keep the monarchy as it was in the days of Philip's efforts to update it to the mid-20th Century.

So far, Philip's attempts to sweep the palace clean of its cobwebs, to replace the old courtiers by young fighting men of the war from middle class families, have been touch-and-go.

The Old Guard succeeded in banishing Group Capt. Peter Townsend from Court when his friendship with Princess Margaret ripened into romance.

More recently, it forced Lt. Cmdr. Michael Parker to resign as Philip's secretary. Commander Parker's crime? His wife had announced that she was contemplating divorce.

Is Arrested After Flight To Sanctuary

HONOLULU—George Leroy Page, South Carolina fugitive, returns to Honolulu today after an unsuccessful flight to Hawaii's ancient City of Refuge where he sought sanctuary.

Page, 38, surrendered peacefully last night—but under protest at the advice of his attorney. The two policemen who arrested him carried a warrant signed by Governor of the territory until William F. Quinn's inauguration last Monday.

Page, who escaped the South Carolina Penitentiary in 1954 while serving a life term for murder, slipped out of Honolulu yesterday for the City of Refuge on the island of Hawaii.

His attorney, Bernard K. Trask, insists a right of sanctuary still exists in the "City" dating back to days of the monarchy when Queen Kaahumanu escaped the wrath of King Kamehameha I there in 1790.

Page's sanctuary lasted just four hours in the City of Refuge at Honolulu, which was made a part of the U. S. National Park system by Congress in 1908.

Trask, an authority on Hawaiian history, said he would fight "every inch of the way" to resist extradition. He said he would challenge the government's right to arrest Page and remove him from "the sanctity and immunity which the City of Refuge offers all."

Even the great Kamehameha did not dare violate the sanctuary, Trask declared, calling Page's arrest "a desecration" of the City of Refuge.

Gov. Quinn said he did not believe Page had any case at all in his bid for sanctuary, and police legal specialists agreed.

Dr. Kenneth Emory of the Bishop Museum here said Page's flight to the "City" came almost 150 years too late, that its protection ended when the Hawaiian "tabu" system was abolished in 1910.

Trask maintains that while the right of sanctuary hasn't been invoked in 160 years, it has never been revoked.

Page was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1954 for the murder of a Cameron, S. C., cab driver. The prisoner was 17 then and contends his conviction was based on a confession he signed without reading. After his escape he changed his name and began a new life at Port Huron, Mich.

He married there but left his bride in San Mateo, Calif., on their honeymoon and came to the islands where he admitted everything to a priest.

School for Young Homemakers Will Be Held at California

Young Homemakers between the ages of 18 and 35 are being invited by the Monticue County Home Economics Extension Council to attend the Young Homemakers Schools which begin Monday night Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the County Extension Office in California. The classes are free for those who wish to attend and will be taught by Mrs. Viola Smith, Monticue County Home Agent.

Shortcuts in homemaking, budgeting time and one class on floor selection will be conducted. There will be five classes in all. Classes will meet each Monday night for five consecutive weeks. The final class will be held on the night of Oct. 7 and graduation exercises will be held the afternoon of Oct. 16 in connection with the annual Monticue County Home Economics Extension Days Achievement Day.

Classes in Tipton will begin Friday night, Sept. 13. Mrs. Elmer Koerckmeier and Mrs. Leo Lutz, members of the Young Homemakers committee, are making arrangements for the meeting.

There is no limit to the number of young homemakers who attend these classes and the young homemakers need not be a member of any organized extension group. This service is being sponsored by the Home Economics Extension Club Council.

"Television programs today," he says, "are hard to sell. I don't know if it has anything to do with general economic conditions or not. But I do know that programs are hard to sell."

"All right, what does that mean?" he asks. "It means that a prospective sponsor is cautious. Programs are expensive. He isn't going to buy something that runs two to three million dollars unless he's sure it will sell his products."

"And the network, too. They must see some time, and they're anxious about programming. They are not venturesome. So they are not creative. Caution is the opposite of creativity."

The result of this lack of creativity, Liebman thinks, is what he calls "ambulance chasing for ratings." The networks, he says, have "capitalized" to the sponsors, to the ratings to the exclusion of creativity.

"Television is going the same direction," he says. "It's going to be the only other medium to be dominated by big business, and it will be controlled by big business. They'll make a movie out of some prairie and bring it in and project it in a studio the size of a phone booth. They need no theater, no audience. It's cheaper so that's the way they'll do it."

Liebman says there's another problem exclusive to television—the children. He says programing is virtually controlled by "children—children practically control the dial." Every program that is aired up until nine o'clock in the evening, he says, is planned because children may watch it.

"The programs are designed to Jefferson City and Mrs. Tom R. be 'family fare,'" he says. "On Douglas, McLean."

TV Producer Makes Note Of Cautious Programming

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—The little bronze plaque on the door reads "Max about the 'cultural courage' of Liebman Productions." But the NBC for putting on a full-length door is locked. There's nobody inside. Could New Pitching Collapse Detour Braves From Pennant?

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Can another pitching collapse again detour Milwaukee's steamroller off Pennant Drive into Nightmare Alley?

Remember 1956: The Braves

Schoendienst Is Credited With Pennant

NEW YORK (AP)—Ask almost any Milwaukee player to single out the one Brave who has been most responsible for bringing them within sight of the promised land and he'll say without hesitation—Red Schoendienst.

Not only the fans but the Milwaukee players are in love with Schoendienst. Most of them had never played with anyone like him before. Milwaukee never had a second baseman who could make the plays he makes. It never had a player who gave so much of himself to win. His contribution is not limited to his magnificent all-around play.

It is no mere coincidence—as the modest redhead wishes you to believe—that the Braves' climb began almost immediately after the three-for-one trade that brought Schoendienst from the New York Giants. His contribution went far beyond his excellence in the field and at bat.

In a short space of time he became the field leader the team so sorely lacked last year. The players grew to respect him not only for his advice, spirit and hard work but because he set a fine example for them. He went out and did the things he wanted them to do.

"Within a space of two weeks," said catcher Del Crandall, "we built up a 7½ game difference. Schoendienst was that 7½ game difference."

"You've got to play with him to appreciate him," said first baseman Frank Torre. "He's been the inspiration. He's always on you. He never lets you slow down."

"I always admired Red's ability," said third baseman Eddie Mathews, "but I never realized what a tremendous team player he was."

"Schoendienst is the take-charge guy we've been waiting for," said Manager Fred Haney.

The most plausible explanation for Schoendienst's emergence into a field leader and take-charge guy was given by Del Rice, a teammate of Red's on the Cardinals.

"Red is the quiet type of leader," Rice said. "It wasn't so noticeable with the Cards because we had such veterans as Terry Moore, Marty Marion, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter. It's different here. Most of the fellows are young."

BACK BEHIND THE ROPES

Basilio Would Drop One Title With Victory

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y. (AP)—If Carmen Basilio beats Sugar Ray Robinson he'll keep the middleweight title and give up the welterweight championship since boxing commissions no longer allow a man to hold two or three crowns.

The National Boxing Assn. has indicated Basilio would have a choice of which to keep if he whips Robinson at Yankee Stadium Sept. 23.

"I've got a rematch contract with Robinson," Basilio said today in the midst of a two-day enforced "vacation." "If I win—and I expect to win—I'm supposed to fight Robinson again. That would rule out any idea of holding the welter title. When I give it up, I'll stick to it. Anyhow I won't have to make 147 pounds anymore."

The welter champ looks fit and ready for action at about 152 pounds.

Co-managers Joe Netro and Johnny De John are dreaming of a future match with Joey Giardello once the champ finishes his business with Robinson.

Basilio's biggest push to date was about $62,000 for his Boston rematch with Tony DeMarco, Nov. 30, 1955. If all goes well, he'll draw about $300,000 for the Robinson match.

The 30-year-old onion farmer from Canastota, N.Y., is a comparative newcomer to higher finance.

Back in 1945 when Robinson was nailing down his claim to the welterweight title, Basilio was on Guam with the Marines, listening to fights on the short wave radio.

CONFLICT—Along with everything else, basketball is getting ready to cut in on the sports scene. Richie Guerin, right, scraps with New York Knickerbocker teammate Ray Felix for a loose ball during an exhibition game at a New York resort. Max Zaslofsky, former National Basketball Association sharpshooter, watches at right and in background is Neil Johnston, Philadelphia Warriors' scoring star.

Cards Keep Pennant Chances Alive With Victory Over Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are the Milwaukee Braves cracking a bit or is it somewhat of a natural letdown for a team that has the National League pennant in sight?

Whatever it is, the St. Louis Cardinals kept their pennant chances alive last night with a 10-1 romp over the league leaders.

Milwaukee is still 6½ games ahead of St. Louis, but the Cards are mindful of the Braves' September '56 nose dive.

Sad Sam Jones handcuffed Fred Haney's crew with a neat four-hitter.

Del Ennis, Hobie Landrith and Irv Soren—Frankie Lane's newest import—supplied the punch that beat the Braves and starter Lew Burdette.

Burdette is now 14-8 and has failed to finish any of his last four starts.

Kansas City was idle.

Johnny Saxton Faces Test in Comeback Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn, who was welterweight champion a year ago, tonight faces one of the most crucial tests of his career when he takes on unranked Joe Miceli of New York.

Saxton, in banking on what he hopes is a climb back to the top, encounters Miceli in a 10-round bout at Capitol Arena. The fight will be carried nationally via television and radio (NBC, 8 p.m. CST).

Saxton has kayoed 21 opponents, lost 6 times and had 2 draws. Miceli has won 53, altogether, while losing 28 and drawing 8.

Yank Manager Sees No Relief With Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees are still "hesitant," hurtling and not hitting," in the words of manager Casey Stengel, although they hold a 5½ game margin over the Chicago White Sox.

The grizzled Yankee pilot admitted the Yankees were far from being out of the woods despite yesterday's dramatic 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox. They had lost five of their previous seven games and 10 out of 17.

"We're still not getting the pitchin' and we're still not getting the hittin'," Casey said. "We're puttin' plenty of men on base but we're not drivin' them in."

Casey was still breathing hard from yesterday's game in which the Yankees came from behind after trailing the Red Sox and their old nemesis, Willard Nixon, 2-0 until the eighth. Then, with the scored tied in the ninth at 2-2, two out and two on base, he permitted relief pitcher Bob Grim to bat.

Grim surprised everybody, including himself, by slamming Nixon's first pitch into the right field stands for his first hit of the season and the second homer of his career.

"Surprised? The grinning Grim echoed in the clubhouse after the game. 'I was dumbfounded.'"

Someone asked him what kind of a pitch he hit.

"You kidding?" he asked. "I don't know how I even hit it."

Medical Council Says Not to Take Drugs For Asian Influenza

CHICAGO (AP)—If you catch Asian flu, says an American Medical Assn. council, don't take antibiotics or sulfa drugs and don't go to a hospital.

A report by the AMA council on drugs, prepared at the request of the AMA's special committee on influenza, said the best treatment to guard against complications is bed rest at home, sufficient fluids, and agents to reduce fever.

The council said the sulfa drugs and antibiotics do not affect the flu virus. Their use may lead to the development of bacteria that becomes resistant to their action and may make the patient sensitive to the drugs.

All-Aussie Tennis Finals Are Possible

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Even with Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall laboring for the professionals, the possibility of an all-Australian final for the National Tennis Championship became a distinct possibility today.

Ashley Cooper already is in the semifinal, the result of a whirlwind 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 victory over Budge Patty yesterday. Mal Anderson, the 22-year-old surprise of the tournament from Down Under, went against Luis Ayala of Chile today in a bid for another Aussie semifinal berth.

Cooper will meet the winner of today's other quarter-final which pits Vic Seixas against Herbie Flam.

Anderson's semifinal opponent—if he gets past Ayala—will be Sven Davidson of Sweden, who made yesterday a glum one for the United States by whipping Cliff Mayne, an Army lieutenant from Fort Monmouth, N.J., 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. That was expected even though Mayne earlier had eliminated Neale Fraser, the No. 2 Aussie.

But Cooper's ridiculously easy victory over Patty was the shocker. This could have been a preview of the Davis Cup Challenge Round because both are expected to hold down singles berths for their respective teams.

"I must admit that I thought Patty would be a lot more difficult," Cooper said.

Patty was glum at the outcome. "I don't know what was wrong with me," he commented, "but it certainly was something. And my back didn't bother me a bit. I can't understand it."

The semifinals of the women's division also will be filled today when top-seeded Althea Gibson plays Mrs. Mary Hawton of England and Marlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., goes against Shirley Bloomer, also of England.

Louis Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., seeded No. 2, and Mrs. Dorothy Knode of Forest Hills, No. 3, each gained their brackets yesterday. Miss Brough crushed 18-year-old Ann Haydon of England, 7-5, 6-1, and Mrs. Knode polished off Lois Felix of Meriden, Conn., 6-2, 6-1.

Escaped Convict Will Be Tried For Robbing Airman and His Wife

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—James Richard Esson, 35, will be tried in Circuit Court Oct. 21 on a charge of robbing Airman Carl A. Wagner of Salina, Kan.

Esson, escaped Ohio convict, was captured by a Kansas City patrolman Aug. 16 after the officer saw a hand sticking out of the trunk of the car Esson was driving.

Police said Esson admitted robbing and beating Wagner and locking him and his wife in the car trunk after hitching a ride with them near Kingdom City, Mo.

Esson pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday. He escaped in May, 1956, while serving a life term for a murder in Ohio.

Michigan City Reverses US Trend in Teenage Crimes

PLAIN TALK: Lt. Stanley Skuzinski, head of the juvenile division of the Grand Rapids, Mich., Police Department, lays it on the line for a boy in trouble.

By James Smallegan

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—An upward trend in juvenile crime continues in the United States. But in this Michigan furniture city of 200,000 it is the other way around—down, down, down.

Since 1949 the number of Grand Rapids youngsters under 17 involved in crimes has dipped almost 25 per cent, despite a population increase of 11 per cent.

The FBI Uniform Crime Report shows that during the same period the national rate of juvenile delinquency has jumped to more than seven times what it was in 1949.

Grand Rapids had nearly 2,000 juveniles involved in law violations in 1949. Last year there were less than 1,500, and police say the trend is toward an even lower figure this year. Nationally, the FBI reports 36,000 juveniles were arrested in 1949, compared with almost 234,500 last year.

Wide Attack
Lt. Stanley Skuzinski, who runs the Grand Rapids Police Department's juvenile division, credits several things for the city's declining delinquency rate.

For one thing, he says: "We work with clubs of boys aged 17 through 21 who help us keep gangs of youngsters from forming. They're closer to the younger teen-agers than we are."

Ike to Get Odd Gift
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—An odd present is in store for President Eisenhower.

Maurice Tremblay, a toolmaker whose hobby is making what he calls "cockeyed clocks," said he will send a clock to the president which runs backwards and has letters instead of numbers.

The letters spell "Mr. Eisenhower," when read backward.

and the youngsters respect their confidence. We don't have an organized gang of youngsters in the city.

"We find trouble, when it develops, most generally starts from a group congregated on a street corner. The first thing you know someone dares someone to do something and he's either 'chicken' or in trouble."

"Whenever we see groups hanging around we don't just run them off, we kind of 'talk' them home."

For another thing, he credits Grand Rapids' stability:

"We have our poor neighborhoods, like any city, but we don't have a skid row. Sixty-three and a half per cent of Grand Rapids' residents own or are buying their homes."

Another thing the police lieutenant points out is the total of more than 200 churches here, many of them of the strict Dutch faith that settlers brought with them 107 years ago.

This year 1,200 Grand Rapids children are going to camp through a $30,138 fund raised through a one-day drive.

Kids Kept Busy
Skuzinski and his 13-member staff also busy themselves helping with a bustling municipal program of recreational events, ranging from swimming to square dancing all year long.

Exactly what relation, if any, there is between juvenile and adult crime rates, Skuzinski isn't sure. But he and other policemen are proud of the Grand Rapids' low adult rate, too.

"I believe crime prevention starts with the youngsters," Skuzinski said, "and we're working to prove it. You can't just chase youngsters away and expect them to keep out of trouble. You've got to work with them; give them something to do."

HOLLYWOOD — If Jerome Courtland becomes the Davy Crockett-like sensation of 1957 — and it's entirely possible — it will be a case of fame striking twice. Once a popular film juvenile, his career hit the rocks and he even took to selling encyclopedias!

Courtland, a handsome, 6-foot-5 actor from Nashville, Tenn., is in the same position for the buildup that thrust Fess Parker to fame as Davy. Courtland is starring in six hour-long shows that will appear on ABC's Disneyland series this season. The shows, called "The Saga of Andy Burnett," concern a farm boy who becomes a mountain man in frontier America, and will be starting Oct. 2. Courtland is all tied up by the Disney outfit, as a recording star as well as a performer. Though he served seven years at Columbia pictures, he doesn't seem to mind being a contract player again. He can recall lean days as a free-lancer. "Things were pretty tough for a while," he admitted. "I'd get offers for jobs, but my agents wouldn't let me take them. They said the salary was too low, and I'd ruin my price. Heck, I didn't care. I had a wife and child to support."

"I thought about going into other lines of work. While I was waiting, I had to make some money, so I started selling encyclopedias. I sold some sets, but I was a lousy salesman." Courtland first found fame at 17. Visiting Hollywood, he was signed to a contract and given a role in "Together Again" with Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer. He did 25 pictures, notably "Battleground" and "Kiss and Tell," in which he gave Shirley Temple her first screen kiss. Now he's 30, more mature, and headed for what could be sensational success.

Soviet Claim On Production Is Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today termed unrealistic a Soviet claim that within a few years Russia will equal or outstrip American per capita production of meat and dairy products.

An article in a department publication, Foreign Agriculture, did not say flatly the claim by Soviet Communist party boss Khrushchev would not be achieved. But it detailed reasons why this result is considered unlikely.

In a May 22 speech in Leningrad, Khrushchev said per capita milk production in the United States last year was 756 pounds compared with 540 in Russia, that American butter production was 8.4 pounds compared with 6.2 there, and that meat production in this country was 225 pounds compared with 71 in Russia.

The department publication said a number of handicaps work against a rapid increase of Soviet livestock production.

Perhaps the most important of these, it said, is the feed supply in Russia. It said this has been a perennial weak spot in the Soviet livestock industry.

The publication said labor was another problem—that three to five Russian farm workers are required to do the job of one in the United States. Another handicap, the publication said, is the Soviet Union's lack of quality stock.

The article noted that Khrushchev's former associates were skeptical of his targets.

The article said that while figures given by Khrushchev for United States meat-dairy production are approximately correct, those for the Soviet Union appear to be too high for milk and meat and are inconsistent with previous information.

"Even on Khrushchev's own showing," it said, "the United States produced in 1956 more than three times as much meat per capita and 40 per cent more milk than the Soviet Union."

"But he asserts the Soviet Union can overtake the United States in per capita milk production in 1958 and by 1960 or 1961 reach the level of U.S. meat production, notwithstanding the rapid population growth."

Elephant Tramples Man to Death in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's state elephant six-year-old Udhagiri turned on his attendant today and trampled him to death.

Caught and tamed in the Assam forests of northeast India three years ago, Udhagiri lives at the president's palace and leads all state processions.

When the attendant bent to chain the elephant on their return from a morning walk today, the normally well behaved animal crushed him to death.

Elephant experts speculated that the animal was wreaking vengeance for some unknown wrong done by the attendant.

New Reports On Influence Are Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators said today they are studying some cases in which they said West Coast lawyer Murray Chotiner represented clients in matters before federal agencies.

Chotiner is a Los Angeles Republican who managed Vice President Nixon's campaign in 1952.

Chotiner was mentioned yesterday, among dozens of others, in a report by the Senate Investigations subcommittee on a 1956 probe of alleged irregularities in procurement of military clothing.

The report did not in any way criticize Chotiner, whose name came up last year as a former lawyer for some clothing manufacturers the subcommittee was investigating.

Testifying under oath, Chotiner told the subcommittee he never used his associations with Nixon to seek favors for any client. He also said he never used any influence in his law practice.

The investigations group said in its report that William A. Parzow of Philadelphia, described as a convicted jury tamperer, had testified he hardly knew Chotiner but that Chotiner had told the subcommittee he did know Parzow. Chotiner testified that Parzow recommended a clothing manufacturer to him for some law business.

The subcommittee said the Justice Department has been asked to examine Parzow's testimony for possible perjury action.

A source connected with a House Government Operations subcommittee headed by Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.) said the subcommittee staff will look into various cases handled by Chotiner. This source said these include cases before the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Trade Commission.

During his testimony before the Senate group last year, Chotiner acknowledged making some calls to the White House in behalf of airlines he represented. President Eisenhower later said there was no reason to believe Chotiner's activities had violated any of the rules of ethics the President had laid down for his administration.

Emphasizing that the Chotiner matter still is in the preliminary stage, the House subcommittee source said the purpose of the study is to find out whether Chotiner used any influence in behalf of his clients.

To Hold Open Hearing On Skating Rink Case

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An open hearing will be held Sept. 24 for Col. James Smyrl, ousted Lackland Air Force Base training unit commander.

The hearing at Lackland will determine whether he should be permitted to remain in the Air Force. It previously had been announced as a secret session.

Smyrl was relieved of his command when he refused to obey a training policy put into effect by Maj. Gen. Herbert Grills, Lackland commander.

Smyrl charged he had been ordered to support the Lackland roller skating rink, a civilian concession, at the rate of $300 daily. Lackland information officers said the inspector general's office found the charge unfounded.

Elusive Check Passer Nabbed 11 Years Later

CLEVELAND (AP)—For 11 years Indiana State Police Lt. Edwin C. Schroeder sought an elusive check passer called "The Traveler," who cashed an estimated half a million dollars worth of worthless checks in 40 states including Indiana.

Last night Lt. Schroeder confronted Charles R. Speedie, 51, of San Fernando, Calif. Speedie was arrested yesterday afternoon in suburban Middleburgh Heights. He was being sought by police all over the country.

"I'm glad it's over," Schroeder commented. Speedie smiled but did not speak. The policeman carried a portfolio containing 30 pounds of evidence. He had kept a carefully documented account of Speedie's 11-year career, including photostats and facsimiles of the check passer's work.

"I don't know his face but I'd recognize his handwriting anywhere," Schroeder said. A policeman for 22 years and a handwriting expert, he had rounded up evidence as Speedie crossed the country at least 30 times passing checks under nearly 50 aliases.

Schroeder, Capt. John McCrory of the Indiana State Police, and Cleveland detectives questioned Speedie for three hours during which they said, he spoke "thousands of words saying nothing."

"He readily admitted his guilt," Schroeder said, "but he refused to discuss details."

Speedie finally offered an unusual proposal. He would plead guilty if all the states who wanted him would lump their charges together into one federal charge.

If they refused, he said, he would plead innocent and fight any attempts to extradite him.

Magazine Trial Enters Final Round Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Confidential magazine trial enters its final round today when the prosecutor begins his final argument in an effort to convince the jury that the publication is obscene and has libeled celebrities.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzl expects to take two days to sum up 2,000 pages of testimony and his case against Confidential and Whisper magazines and their Hollywood agents, Fred and Marjorie Meade.

Defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley, who is also expected to take two days to present his argument, will reply with his appeal for a verdict of innocent. He represents only Mr. and Mrs. Meade and their now defunct information checking agency, Hollywood Research, Inc.

Crowley asserts the magazines are not on trial because they are not physically represented in the courtroom. Only two celebrities—Maureen O'Hara and Dorothy Dandridge—testified. The appearance of dozens of Hollywood stars, which Crowley had promised before the trial, never came off.

She has a new apartment across the hall from the men's dormitory apartment she and her parents occupied last year.

Martha, attending a full schedule of classes via a two-way radio from her iron lung, last year earned top freshman honors with a 97.22 average.

She has been confined in the iron lung, except for brief daily periods, since stricken with polio in 1948.

Mistreatment Of Trainee Is Disproved

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A special court-martial yesterday acquitted 26-year-old Army Sgt. I.C. Alexander Brown of mistreating an infantry basic trainee after five minutes deliberation.

Brown, of Warrington, Fla., denied he struck Pvt. Maurice Willis, 22, of Kansas City, while Willis was a trainee under his supervision with Co. I, 39th Infantry Regiment.

Willis testified that Brown hit him in the stomach and slapped him when Brown called him to a barracks room Aug. 4, because he had been absent the day before when the company was preparing for general inspection. Willis said he suffered a nosebleed but did not have to go to the hospital.

Brown testified he regarded it as his duty as a non-commissioned officer to discipline trainees. He said he felt a special obligation as a Negro to work harder with other Negroes to keep them behaving as the Army wanted them to. Willis also is a Negro.

Defense witnesses, including two master sergeants and a former commander of the training company, testified Brown had an even temperament and that he handled disciplinary problems outside his jurisdiction by taking them to the first sergeant.

Brown's trial was the second of eight enlisted men charged with mistreating trainees.

Sgt. James Hobbs, 26, of Gunnison, Miss., was convicted last week of striking a trainee.

Claims 18 Marriages

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Revard Davis, 46, who testified in municipal court he had been married 18 times, was acquitted of a charge he assaulted a woman friend with his fists.

Davis, Pawhuska, Okla., told Judge James P. Goepfinger "I don't whip women or dogs." He claimed he only "scuffled" with the complaining witness.

Turn Against President

HAVANA, Sept. 5 (AP)—Government troops, tanks and warplanes fought a day-long battle in south-central Cuba today to smash a rebel uprising led by naval and maritime police forces who turned against President Batista.

The government forces claimed victory early tonight. Battle observers reported many Cubans were killed but could not give figures immediately.

Traffic Laws Aid Cut-Down Of Highway Toll

Missouri Deaths Drop To 6; Blair Credits Speed Law

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 5 (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair, dubious about Missouri's new highway speed limit law when he signed it, said today he was beginning to change his mind.

In a letter to Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, Blair said that last year 27 persons were killed over the long Labor Day weekend despite the fact the National Guard helped patrol the highways.

This year, with the new speed limit law just barely in operation, the number of fatalities dropped to six.

"I cannot believe there is not some relation to cause and effect between the new enactment and the reduction of the slaughter on our highways this year."

He told Waggoner he was looking to the patrol to use rigid enforcement in bringing to Missouri "an even greater reduction of deaths on our highways and a new era in traffic safety in our state."

When he signed the bill into law he expressed fear that confusion could only result since the limits varied according to the type of highway and the time of day or night. But he signed it as a "step in the right direction."

Blair also sent letters today to all state department heads, urging them to help in the campaign to lower traffic accidents by asking their employees to obey the new speed law.

He said the "excellent cooperation" of newspapers, radio and television stations helped in the campaign for greater traffic safety.

Charge Depends On Bird's Health At Time Of Theft

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5 (AP)—The question before magistrate court today: Was Major, the $350 Macaw, a healthy bird at the time of his disappearance, or not?

The parrot's well-being was discussed at a preliminary hearing for Michael J. Ruffolo and Salvatore P. Brocato, charged with stealing property worth more than $50.

Major, missed from a drug store pet department, was found in their possession.

Louie Reale, counsel for the men, sought to convince the court that if the macaw was sick at the time of the theft he "might not be worth 15 cents," and in that case the stiffer charge would be unjustified.

Major, himself, wasn't talking.

But Miss Estelle Bradford, manager of the pet department, assured Magistrate Burroughs N. Mosman that Major was, and still is, in the pink.

Mosman bound the suspects over to Circuit Court for trial.

Jury Declares Hospital Cannot Meet Standards Of Nursing Home Law

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5 (AP)—A Circuit Court grand jury said today the St. Louis Chronic Hospital probably could not meet the health and patient care standards set up by Missouri's new nursing home laws.

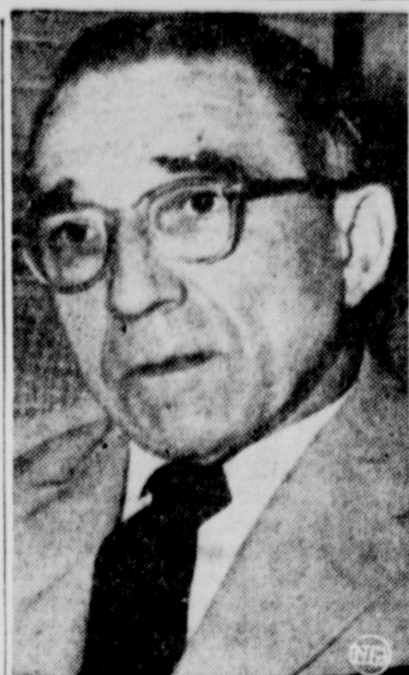

The grand jury, in a report to Circuit Judge David A. McMullan, found there were two bathtubs and three toilets to care for one ward of 80 patients.

It said many of the buildings dating back to the Civil War and equipment in them are inadequate.

Postal Workers Needed In Kansas City; Waive Some Requirements

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5 (AP)—Desperate for clerks and mail carriers, the Kansas City post office today lowered residential restrictions on job applicants.

Formerly, they were required to live within the local office's delivery limits. Now, applications will be received regardless of residence, acting Postmaster Jeffrey P. Hillebrand said.

ISSUES ORDER — Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies, above, of Farga, N. D., has ordered desegregation of Central high school in Little Rock, Ark., despite Gov. Orval E. Faubus' intention to keep National Guardsmen posted around the school. Judge Davies temporarily is assigned to the Eastern Arkansas district. (NEA Telephone)

Rail Service Cut By Katy Is Protested

Sedalia Chamber Announces Stand On MKT Request

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce went on record protesting the proposed discontinuing of passenger rail service by the MKT railroad, based on the lack of necessary mail and express service north and south which would result from such an act. The protest was made by directors of the Chamber board at a meeting of the board Wednesday afternoon.

The Katy recently filed application with the Missouri Public Service Commission for authority to discontinue its two daily passenger runs from St. Louis to the Missouri-Kansas border, both of which go through Sedalia. The Booneville Chamber of Commerce has issued a similar protest.

The meeting was presided over by Vernon Rodick, president, who announced the date of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet had been set for Nov. 7, and that new officers and directors for the coming year would be elected by the membership in the near future.

An announcement on the coffee and doughnut session to be held at 9:45 a.m. Friday was made by Ed Kehde, Jr., which he said he believed would benefit everybody.

Under the recreation and education division this economic educational program, on which George Morrison, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak, has a great deal of merit and, Kehde stated, had gone over to other communities to such an extent that a number of classes had those who wanted to participate. People are always asking what the Chamber does, Kehde said. This is an opportunity to learn about something the Chamber offers.

D. Kelly Scruton, director of aviation and military affairs, stated that a man from the Missouri Resources and Development Association had been in Sedalia making a study of the municipal airport facilities and that he would report back later. The plans, said Scruton, are well in the making.

Cecil Owen, director of the conventions and tourists division, told of contacts being made to bring conventions to Sedalia and of the efforts being made by his division to make available facilities in the city.

UN Group To Recess Arms Meet

5-Power Committee Unable To Reach Reduction Accord

LONDON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The U.N. Disarmament subcommittee tonight agreed unanimously to recess its London talks without reaching an arms-reduction agreement.

The five-power subcommittee talked for an hour—and failed to agree—on the question of when to meet again to take up the disarmament problem. But it scheduled another meeting tomorrow to try to settle this question.

Today's meeting, the 70th since the present session opened in London March 18 and the 156th since the subcommittee was formed in 1954, wound up on a note of bitterness.

The Western Powers—the United States, Britain, Canada and France—suggested that the subcommittee meet again at the United Nations on Oct. 1.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin agreed to the proposals for an immediate recess. But he protested that no time or place for the next meeting should be fixed until after the entire question of disarmament has been fought out in the U.N. General Assembly.

When Western spokesmen objected that this might mean the loss of valuable time for negotiations, Zorin charged the West was seeking to avoid a debate on disarmament in the General Assembly.

Spokesmen for Britain and France sharply denied Zorin's accusation. The United States already has moved that the question of disarmament be discussed during the General Assembly session which begins Sept. 17.

Today's meeting marked formal abandonment of hope that agreement would result from the tortuous 5½ months of negotiations which earlier this year brought cautious predictions from both sides that a partial disarmament treaty might be worked out.

Russia gave up first. As soon as the West tabled in final form its 11-point disarmament package last week, Zorin attacked the proposals as containing nothing of genuine value.

Mayors Capable But Machines Top Production Mark

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5 (AP)—Five suburban mayors in a cow milking contest last night proved only one thing—milking machines are here to stay as far as they are concerned.

Each got at least a glass of milk in two minutes. The winners, Mayor A. Ray Parker of Brentwood and Mayor Clement E. Helmsing, each extracted a quart.

Neither had milked a cow in 30 years.

Circuit Judge Franklin Ferriss, who judged the contest, termed the mayors' work a "competent performance" but he admitted he knew nothing about milking himself.

After the mayors had put on their milking exhibition as part of the suburban Ferguson's County Fair, four 4-H Club members showed what can be done in two minutes by experienced milkers. Each came close to filling a two and one-half gallon bucket.

Army Court Acquits Sergeant Of Charges Of Striking Recruit

FT. CARSON, Colo., Sept. 5—A special Army court martial today acquitted SFC Alexander Brown of a charge of mistreating trainees at this post.

The court deliberated only five minutes.

Brown was accused of striking Pvt. Maurice Willis, 22, of Kansas City last month.

Willis testified earlier in the trial that Brown called him to a barracks room Aug. 4 and struck him in the stomach three times after telling him he was a disgrace to his race because of his actions. Both Willis and Brown are Negroes.

The sergeant denied the allegations and testified he called Willis to the room and only talked to him.

Yes, Sir, Our Mules Are The Toughest!

A 56-year-old Mission, Kan., man knows quite well that the old Missouri mule is still a tough customer.

Frank Kerr, driving a 1948 sedan, was traveling north on U.S. 65 when he tangled with Adolph Kaiser's 10-year-old mule at the Benton-Pettis County line at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The box score:

One badly damaged sedan.

One sore and bruised ass.

AFL-CIO Holds Hearing

Hoffa Denies Charges Of Corrupt Practices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—James R. Hoffa and other Teamsters Union bosses today denied before the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee any wrongdoing in connection with corruption charges leveled by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Most of the closed hearing before the AFL-CIO's five-man Rackets-policing group was devoted to hearing Hoffa written and oral explanation of the Senate committee's charges that he accepted favor from employers and consorted with racketeers.

As for the AFL-CIO's charges that the Teamsters Union is corruptly dominated by Vice President Dave Beck and others, a public statement was issued on which none of the Teamsters would elaborate.

This statement denied the corruption-domination charge — one that could lead to ousting the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO if sustained.

The statement said any necessary remedial steps in the union or punishment of its officials would be carried out at the Sept. 30 convention of the 1½-million-member truckers' union in Miami, Fla.

Hoffa is the odds-on choice to become Teamsters president at the convention, succeeding Beck, who is retiring. Beck has been accused by the Senate committee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), of helping himself to union funds, while Hoffa has been charged with using racketeers to advance his own powers.

Over-all, Hoffa, Beck and other Teamsters Executive Board members admitted to nothing wrong within their union in their appearance before the Ethical Practices unit. They said only unproved matters involving "certain individuals and local situations" had been raised in the McClellan committee hearings. They said these would be referred to their convention.

The Teamsters' reply to AFL-CIO demands for an accounting and cleanup thus amounted to telling the federation to "keep out of our affairs, we'll take care of them."

The union's statement vaguely promised reforms at the convention that "will strengthen the union by broadening the influence of the rank-and-file members of the union on the actions of its responsible officials."

Also sentenced to two years were Dio's codefendants, Max Chester, 41, a former local official of the Retail Clerks International Assn., and Samuel Goldstein, 41, a former Teamster Local president.

General Sessions Judge James A. Mullen also fined each of the three $1,000. They were charged with conspiracy and bribery in obtaining $10,000 from two electroplating companies.

Wire tapped telephone talks between Dio and Hoffa on other matters were played at the televised hearings in Washington two weeks ago while Hoffa was in the witness chair.

The Senate committee suggested the talks dealt with phony Teamsters locals in New York and with microphones for eavesdropping in a 1953 grand jury probe of Hoffa.

Hoffa pleaded 111 times an inability to remember. Dio, an earlier witness before the committee, pleaded the Fifth Amendment to almost all questions.

Dio, whose real name is John Dioguardi, faces another trial next month on charge of conspiring to extort from two stationery firms.

A federal income tax evasion charge also is pending against him.

Integration Delay Asked

Little Rock School Board Asks Court To Grant Delay

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 5 (AP)—The Little Rock School Board asked U. S. District Court today to permit an indefinite legal postponement of integration at the strife-ridden Central High School, still encircled by armed National Guardsmen.

The request mentioned the tension that has engulfed this city since Gov. Orval Faubus ordered the guardsmen to prevent nine Negro students from entering the previously all-white school.

The surprise move by the board, which has supported its limited plan against Faubus' interference, apparently was aimed at breaking the impasse between Faubus and the federal government.

The plea, if granted by U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald L. Davies, could effect a temporary truce in the smoldering integration question here.

The board did not specify how long a postponement it wanted. Judge Davies will hear the petition at 10 a.m., Saturday, Dist. Clerk Grady Miller said later today.

Faubus was not immediately available for comment. He has not been available all day.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said, "Our attorneys will naturally oppose it."

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower replied from Newport, R. I., to Faubus' long telegram last night. The governor said he feared federal officials were plotting to take him into custody. He asked the President to halt federal interference with his efforts "to maintain peace."

The President replied simply that "the federal Constitution will be upheld by me by every legal means at my command," in the Little Rock school controversy. Earlier he had denied that there was any plan for federal officers to attempt to arrest the Arkansas governor.

Eisenhower expressed confidence that Faubus would "give full cooperation to the United States District Court" in Little Rock. It was this court that ordered immediate integration.

The school board asked the court "to enter an order temporarily suspending enforcement of the plan of integration which was approved by decree of the court entered Aug. 16, 1956."

The board said there had been "tension among pupil groups," in the Little Rock school controversy. It said the temporary suspension was necessary in order to restore "calmness" to the situation.

There was no mention of how long the school board desired to have the order suspended.

Negro students stayed away from Central High School today on advice of the NAACP while the biggest crowd of the week turned out to back up National Guardsmen who have orders to bar Negroes from the institution.

Calif. Representative Announces Candidacy For Teamster Post

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.), a former union official, said tonight he will be a candidate for general president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

That is the post being vacated by the retiring Dave Beck.

Shelley was president of the San Francisco Labor Council from 1937-1948, and president of the California State Federation of Labor from 1947-1950.

Court-Martial Starts For A Missouri Airman Charged In Pay Swindle

SHAW AIR FORCE BASE, S.C., Sept. 5 (AP)—The court-martial of Airman 1.C. Glenn E. King of Jackson, Mo., charged with participating in a payroll swindle got under way today after two days of delay.

Action was slowed by defense challenges of the makeup of the court-martial. It was argued that board members had become prejudiced as a result of sitting on previous courts-martial resulting from the swindle.

Counsel for King was successful in having two of the six members composing the board removed.

About 30 airmen have been charged in the case. Seven convicted earlier were dishonorably discharged and given prison terms.

King is accused in several larceny specifications of receiving $2,472 in illegal payments from the base finance office.

Sedalians See Northern Lights Wednesday Nite

The aurora borealis, or northern lights, were visible Wednesday night in Sedalia and were unusually bright for this far south, according to Russell Maag, president of the Astronomical League. They were also unusually high in the sky. They could be seen between approximately 9 and 10 p.m. Maag said he received many telephone calls asking about the lights. He said that to have such a bright display would require a large sunspot flare to occur.

Mrs. Farrell E. Anderson

Miss Marcia Priddy Becomes Bride Of Farrell E. Anderson

The First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Marcia Priddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Priddy, 1001 Crescent Drive, and Farrell E. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Anderson, St. Louis, which took place at eight o'clock last night. Dr. Thomas Croxton, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums and gladioli and jade foliage illuminated by lighted tapers in candelabra entwined with greenery.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. Clyde Williams, organist, played a medley including "Claire de Lune," "Leibestraum" and "Andante." Robert Seelen sang "O Perfect Love" and at the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a terrace length dress of silk chiffon taffeta in oyster white. It was fashioned on empire lines with a fold of taffeta defining the very high waist at the front and curving low at the center back. French lace formed the bodice which had short sleeves. A full back panel of lace fell to the hemline of the flaring skirt. The bride's head-dress was a pillbox, embroidered with pearls and sequins which held her elbow length double illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

The bride's attendant, Miss Judith Rissler, wore an empire sheath of peacock blue taffeta with low neck and cap sleeve. A floating back panel fell from the waistline. Her head-dress was a matching taffeta bandeau with a side flare. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of talisman roses.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Priddy chose a lace trimmed pink linen sheath with matching accessories and pink rose corsage. The groom's mother was attired in a dress of blue silk organza complemented with matching accessories and gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn of the Priddy home.

The bride's table covered with a white tulle liner cloth was centered with lighted tapers in antique hurricane holders. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple. A floral arrangement of huckleberry and talisman roses completed the table setting.

Miss Kay Langeneckert and Miss Barbara Rissler served the cake and punch. Miss Patricia Keating was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Lake Tawakoni the bride wore a beige bougie linen suit with matching accessories.

The bride graduated from Smith-Cotton High School and Missouri University in June with a BS degree in education and will teach

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of Chantilly lace over deep ivory tulle with low, round neckline edged with scalloped lace and narrow folds of tulle. The voluminous skirt of deep flounces of lace over pleated tulle ended in a sweep train which elongated from a fitted circular yoke at the hips. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a coronet of lilies of the valley buds and seed pearls. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of phloxenopsis orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Michael Reid of Columbia, matron of honor, Miss Cynthia Ann Wheat, Kansas City, Miss Margaret Lillian Burke, and Miss Joanne Yount, both of Dixon, Ill., bridesmaids, wore identical terrace length dresses of empire styling in green iridescent pique de soie fashioned with wide scooped neckline and short sleeves. "We plan to do this (live television) in every crusade from now on. We will do broadcasts from the Cow Palace in San Francisco beginning in April, and from Charlotte next fall."

He agrees with suggestion that a number of factors contribute to the heightened effectiveness of his message in person.

"I feel more restricted," he says of television. "I have never felt that I have had what I might call complete liberty. I am a bit tense and nervous, not quite relaxed. I feel that the message on TV is inferior in content and presentation to the others."

He has thus far not looked at the films of his telecasts, expects to study them this winter while he rests at home.

"I'll probably change my technique," he smiles quietly. "I'm sure I have some mannerisms that are very distasteful."

There is no deliberate difference in style or oratory for the Saturday telecasts in comparison with other evenings. And sometimes in the midst of his discourse, the evangelist "forgets completely" that a telecast is in progress.

When the governor could stand it no longer he cut into the pilot's radio frequency and informed the jet jockey, "that's Fargo, North Dakota." "Sorry, sir," the pilot replied, not knowing who was correcting him, "I must have lost my head."

Have Tremendous Displays

"Welcome to 4-H Hit Parade" Accents Exhibit Theme at Fair

"Welcome to the 4-H Hit Parade" read the big sign at the entrance of the building in which were the 4-H exhibits from all over the state, and to accent the hit parade were records and green musical notes in the form of the 4-H emblem.

The exhibit was so great that things could not be properly displayed; the clothing displays had to be stacked or hung closely together on racks. But the clothing exhibit was really something to look at and think about, with skirts and blouses from the first year to beautiful formals, wool dresses, suits and coats, cotton dresses for street, parties, play, undergarments, pajamas and dusters. The clothing took up two sides of the middle section which extended almost the length of the building.

County displays were so numerous that it was necessary to put some of them up, judge them, and then take them down. A number of them were on the theme safety, which was the subject that the Pettis County 4-H youngsters chose.

A sign at the back of the booth read: "Ghost Convention members—We didn't practice safety." The scene was a very realistic looking graveyard with little raised places in the dirt that looked like graves and small white tombstones that told how each had been killed. There were flowers on the graves, too. At the entrance was an archway which had the word "Cemetery" printed in black, typical of the entrance to many cemeteries, and a gravel driveway was through the center, with the graves on each side.

The driveway, which really made the background for the ghost convention complete, came through necessity. The young 4-H members had originally scaled the cemetery on a smaller table and when they reached the fair grounds and

He May Have Top Earnings As An Author

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Ernest Gann believes he is the highest-earning author in the United States. It's possible he's the happiest, too.

Gann, a broad-faced, handsome man, lives at Pebble Beach, Calif., some of the time. The rest of the time he's hustling to remote and fascinating parts of the world to gather material for his books.

"My wife and I have been married 24 years, and it has been a very happy marriage," he observed. "This may be partly due to the fact that I have been home about four years of the 24."

This sounds like an exaggeration, but there could be some truth in it. During his younger years he was a barnstorming pilot. He appeared in flying circuses and even flew tourists over movie stars' homes at a buck a throw.

Later he became a commercial airline pilot. During this period, his experiences finally started paying off in literary gold. He had written hundreds of stories before finally clicking — in Popular Mechanics magazine. After three children's books about flying, he scored with his first novel, "Island in the Sky."

He wrote "Island in the Sky" from his experiences as a ferry pilot in the North Atlantic during the war. "Fiddler's Green" was the result of his two years in commercial fishing. "The High and the Mighty" was a fictionalized account of an actual flight during his piloting on the Hawaii-to-California run.

He wanted to write a novel about present-day Hong Kong, so he went there and bought a junk to sail around the Chinese waters. The result was "Soldier of Fortune." Clark Gable starred in the film version.

Gann's latest adventure concerned a square-rigger. The only one he could locate was in Holland, so he gathered a crew, went there and sailed it home to California. Last year, he sailed it to the South Seas and it is now in Hawaii for the filming of "Twilight of the Gods," the novel that resulted from his sailing experience.

All For Science

RICHMOND, a. — Four doctors at the Medical College of Virginia took a lot of ribbing from associates when they departed for Florida and a week of scientific fishing.

I hate fishing," said Dr. E. Lovell Becker, head of the MCV renal electrolyte (kidney) laboratory. "I can't understand anybody who has nothing better to do than to sit all day and fish."

Object of the trip, which has been four years in the making and was prefaced by a stack of correspondence four inches thick, is to discover as much as possible about as many types of fish as the group can obtain. They hope to discover something of the evolutionary development of kidneys—how they overcome changes in environment.

found the table they were given was quite a lot larger and they had just so much dirt, everybody thought they had a real problem. But it wasn't a problem at all to a teen-age 4-H boy. He just went over to the Highway Gardens, borrowed himself a little white gravel, went back and made a driveway that led from the arch entrance.

Six ghosts of various sizes sat on the two black benches and two sat on the ground and were so natural looking you felt you could almost hear their ghostly conversation in the graveyard. You had to look a few minutes before you realized the ghosts were made of white anklets. The entire foot of each anklet, was stuffed with cotton from toe to heel and the top part hung loosely in ghostly fashion. Two big black dots a little below the toes formed the eyes and the ghosts sat on the heels with the top hanging loosely.

A 4-H Club from Clay County had an excellent exhibit, on the theme of "Community Improvement." This exhibit showed a rural mailbox on a nicely made post which was painted white. A tape measure showed that it was just the right height. The box, too, was painted with the name printed plainly and neatly that it might be easily read from the highway. Beside it was an old post of rotting wood, unpainted and leaning. The tape measure showed this post was much too low. The rusting box had the door broken and hanging and there was no name.

Osage Bluffs 4-H Club had the safety theme, too, with a grave and a tombstone on which was printed: "A bird, a boy, a loaded gun; no bird, no boy, a lonely home."

A 4-H Club from Monticue County used the theme: "4-H Works for World Peace," and there were dolls dressed in the costumes of many foreign countries.

The food department was a tempting sight, with canned fruits and vegetables, jellies, preserves and all kinds of baked things from rolls and bread to cookies and cake. Only a half of a loaf of bread, a half a cake and so is needed or wanted for judging, so when youngsters brought whole cakes and whole loaves of bread, the items were just cut in half with the halves needed for judging kept and the other halves divided, part taken to Buena Vista and part to the Johnson County Home.

There were gift suggestions of food, both baked goods and canned goods arranged attractively in baskets or boxes, for Christmas gifts, gifts for other occasions and get-well gift. One long box was wrapped in white with the message: "Get Well Wishes" written in green glitter.

There were nice displays of woodwork and pictures were of every type from oil paintings to copper work.

The portable barbecue pit which was made by a Pettis County boy from his own baby buggy attracted a lot of attention as did the cover for picnic food made from a large lamp shade frame. The frame was covered with mosquito netting and on the outside were big artificial bugs trying to get to the three or four dishes of food beneath.

The 4-H display is one of the finest on the fairgrounds each year and the fact that it long ago outgrew the building is a tribute to the rural youth who know how to keep busy in this age of youngsters who get so bored because they can't find anything to do. It is a tribute, too, to leaders who take time to teach them how to do things.

Ralph Dow Is Speaker At Lions Club

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow of Smith-Cotton High School spoke to the Sedalia Lions Club on the 1957 Tiger football team at Smith-Cotton and made a few remarks about the future of the University of Missouri Tigers. He talked at the regular noon-day meeting of the club on Wednesday.

Dow stressed on training of football players and the duties of the coach and his assistants. "These young fellows must have instilled in them the desire to win. Each must be taught that regardless of size, the other fellow isn't too big for him to handle," Dow said.

"The Tigers at this point of the training season are far better than they were a year ago at this time. We'll win some and lose some this season, but on the whole the people will see good football as far as the local team is concerned. They will witness a real bunch of boys who at present are showing that desire," Dow remarked.

He then discussed competition for the team.

"If we were playing in the old Big Seven Conference, we wouldn't lose a game," he said. "We seldom lost when we were in the Big Seven and when I was playing with the old Sedalia team. But in the present conference we have some pretty stiff competition, and our non-conference games are definitely tough ones," he said.

Dow then paid tribute to Coach Frank Broyles of MU and said, "Missouri will have a good team, a fine team this year, but it will take a couple of years to build it up to the expectations of Missouri followers. Broyles is a good coach and he has a fine coaching staff. He delegates his work and puts the responsibility of decisions to be made upon his staff for their particular jobs."

"There will be some good football in Columbia this year," Dow remarked.

Dow was introduced by James Van Wagner, program chairman. M. C. "Colie" Ervin and George Young were introduced as new members of the Sedalia club.

A guest at the meeting was of E. U. Whitney.

The Lions were informed of two important meetings which are scheduled, the ladies' night meeting Oct. 23 and the 20th anniversary meeting to be held in February, 1958.

International Counselor Dr. Harry E. Goddard, Kennett, Mo., will visit the Sedalia Club Oct. 23.

Dr. Sauls of the Missouri State Conservation Commission will be the principal speaker at this meeting.

International Counselor E. B. Smith learned from Roy Keaton, secretary-general of Lions International, that First Vice-President Dudley Sims of West Virginia will be in Sedalia to make an official visit and talk at the 20th anniversary meeting.

The date for this meeting will be set as soon as confirmation on a specified date is made by International.

Visitor Has Startling Query Upon Arrival

"Say, where am I?" was the first question asked by a young man who came down out of the sky over Sedalia Wednesday night in order to get some matches to read by.

The startling inquiry was put to several members of the Sedalia Jaycees who were working on the permanent state Jaycee headquarters being erected at the city airport on East Highway 50. Hammering away at about 9 p.m. by the use of spotlights, they had noticed a private plane circling about overhead but failed to notice it landing at the airport. Their first knowledge of it was when the young pilot stepped into the glare of the floodlights and asked his location.

Not giving his name, he said he was from Arkansas and was headed for Kansas City but had lost his way. He said that ordinarily he could have picked up radio signals from Kansas City but that the heavy clouds had forced him to fly too low to get reception from there. He circled Sedalia, spotted the landing strip lights and put down.

He and the Jaycees huddled over the air map he carried and, after being oriented by them, he decided to head for Blue Springs, where he would be close enough to Kansas City to get radio bearings.

The pilot then asked for some matches so he could read his map.

Caution Continues To Slow Activity On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 — Extreme caution continued to prevail on the Stock Market today as turn-over stayed near the lows of the year and prices gave ground moderately.

The market was on the downside all day but there was slight improvement in some stocks late in the session. Turnover continued a bit as gains were made but closing prices were below the best of the day.

The major steels managed to come out a bit ahead for the most part. There were small gains for some motors, oils, radio-television, utilities and selected issues. But the tone of aircrafts, rubbers, non-ferrous metals and chemicals was mostly lower. Meanwhile, leading rails declined, setting a new 1957 low on average for this group.

Volume was only 1,420,000 shares far below average for the year, but an improvement over yesterday's 1,260,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 90 cents to $173.80 with the industrials down $1.40, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities down 30 cents.

Financier Offers To Buy Dodgers, Prevent Transfer

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 — Louis E. Wolfson, widely known financier, today offered $5,000,000 for the Brooklyn Dodgers with the intention of keeping the club in New York.

The offer was announced by Walter Troutman, associated with Wolfson in many of his financial dealings. Walter O'Malley, president of the club, is in Wyoming on a hunting trip and could not be reached for comment.

O'Malley has said that unless he is able to obtain a modern baseball park he will move the club to another city, with Los Angeles the probable site.

Troutman said that only Wolfson and his present associates were involved in the offer.

"Taking Brooklyn out of the National League would be like taking Notre Dame out of college football," a Wolfson statement said.
